Pakistan is determined to secure peace in Afghanistan because peace in Afghanistan is very crucial for Pakistan. If we view from historical prospective, Pakistan and Afghanistan, being brotherly neighbouring Islamic brothers, are tied in historical, cultural and linguistic relations. These relations are unbreakable, both are dependent on one another and both can't survive alone. From the day one, Pakistan's stance has been to find political solution to Afghan issue. China also supports this stance. China has said in the context that Afghan problem can only be solved through negotiations involving the Afghan government. Pakistan and China will play their role in solving Afghan dispute through negotiations for strategic partnership.

"My heart leaps up when I behold a rainbow in the sky", wrote William Wordsworth, the famous poet. And most of us share his feelings, when we are lucky enough to see a rainbow. There is an old saying that a pot of gold is buried at the end of the rainbow, but have you ever tried to reach a rainbow's end? Of course, it's impossible, because a rainbow is really just the result of the raindrops refracting and reflecting light from our sun. There are seven colours in the rainbow: red, orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo and violet.
