

CSS-2002 precis

Title: Language gave birth to human civilization

Characteristics of a man is defined into terms such as homo sapiens and other is homo faber (knower). But man also behaves in third way like insect. However, language is an important tool in human life. A sagacious man cannot achieve the desire target without language. Infact, lack of communication man's life move into deep crises such as frustration. Moreover, through language human being has been acquiring more knowledge. Therefore, language has been providing information about ethics. Thus, through language man has (been) identified different cultural values.