Title : Nizar Hussain : Documentaries on Palestinian Causes

Nizar Hussain a student of anthropology turned film producer has made documentaries such as "Independence" and "My Grandfather's Path". The first one very effectively mocked Israel's notion of their independence by forcing the Palestinian's out and the later one, recently released has given a Palestinian perspective on the atrocities of the Zionist Colonists. It has also warned Palestinians to be careful in their actions so not to become immoral like the tyrants they dismiss. Such movies and documentaries have effectively kept the Palestinian cause alive. His new documentary "My Grandfather's Path" is a long masterpiece which has been broadcasted by Al-Jazeera in three short parts for more convenience but should be watched completely in one go.
