

Nuclear Challenge to the World Peace in 21st Century:

Among many challenges to the World peace in 21st Century, one is Nuclearization. The race of getting nuclear weapon started after it first time used by US in World War II. Today nine states are nuclear power, all these states have no good relationship either they are rivals of each other. For example US and Russia have bitter relation of mistrust and confusion, and are not ready to dialogue on the subject. Present confrontation of two states in the invasion of Ukraine, proved that both can go to any level. But Ronald Reagan and Mikhail Gorbachev declared in 1987 that "nuclear war can never win, and should never be fought (Mary Robinson, Nuclear Weapons are still the greatest threat to World peace and NATO must take action to protect humanity, August 2020).
