

Water is the most important element of Planet earth as it supports life. Without water no one can survive in the entire world. Almost 72% of the earth's surface is covered with water. Water is essential element for all human beings, animals and plants. It is used for many domestic purposes like drinking, cleaning, cooking, washing, bathing etc. It is also crucial for maintaining bodily functions like breathing, digestion, and sweating. Hence water is essential element for all living things.

Family is one of the integral parts of human beings. Every human is incomplete without a family. A family means parents, a man, a wife, kids; all are living together. All members share equal parts while sharing the responsibilities within the family. A good family makes a good society. People in a family take care of each other. Humans have many problems in every field of life which cannot be solved alone, so require loyal people to help. Moreover, it is also believed that people living in a family will be happier than alone. Thus, family is very important.
