

There are two parts of this essay topic: Reason and devastation. A better way to deal with such topics where you are going to defend one point, allocate 25 % of essay body to the 'reason', and 75% to 'devastation' which you will prove.

Day:

Date:

Is Twenty-First Century the Age of Devastation or Reason?

Outline write thesis statement here

1- Introduction

2- Facts which prove that twenty-first century is the age of devastation

Twenty-first century:
The age of devastation

i- Conflicts <sup>among</sup> between global powers

ii- wars becoming new norms

Case in point: Armenia - Azerbaijan Conflict

- Russia - Ukraine
war

iii- Challenges of climatic catastrophe

iv- Overpopulation leading to inequalities

Case in point: Food inequalities in Asian and

African countries

v- Rising ethnic conflicts in the world

3 Factors which have contributed to make 21st century an age of devastation rather than reason

i- Rise of populist leaders Case in point: Donald Trump

Mr. Modi

ii- Fourth Industrial revolution Not self explanatory iii- Advancement in Artificial intelligence

iv- Elevated Arm race

4 Recommendations for eliminating the factors which are making manufacturing the 21st century the an era of devastation

i- Active role of United Nations

ii- Ensure promotion of democratic norms

iii- Formulation of policies to combat Arm race

5 Conclusion

The beginning of the introductory paragraph is not catchy and relevant.

Different philosophers have ~~been~~ characterized history in numerous ways. Almost, all of the philosophers have emphasized on the urge to learn from history. World has observed devastating impacts of First and Second world wars. Unfortunately, it is a regrettable fact that world has not learnt anything from the past catastrophic events.

Transition from the previous sentence is not smooth

There is no denying the fact that 21st century is the age of devastation. Raised global conflicts, massive floods, earthquakes, extreme weather events, and overpopulation leading to inequalities are some of the numerous manifestations proving that 21st century is an age of devastation. Risk of populism across the globe, emergence of fourth Industrial revolution and raised arm race in the world are some of the many factors which are contributing in making 21st century the age of devastation. Although, the situation has become quite serious, yet a meticulous analysis reveals that it can be ameliorated by taking appropriate measures.

Day: _____

Date: _____