

Active & Passive (Present Past Future)

She watches TV. She does not watch TV.

watch

Does she watch TV? TV is watched by her.

Television is not watched by her. Is television watched by her? She watched television. She did not watch television. Did she watch television? Television was watched by her. Television was not watched by her. Was television watched by her? She will watch television. She will not watch television. Will she watch television?

Television will be watched by her. Television will not be watched by her. Will television be watched by her? She is watching television. She is not watching television. Is she watching television? Television is being watched by her. Television is not being watched by her. Is television being watched by her?

She was watching television. She was not watching

Was
since
lan television. Was she watching television. Television was being watched by her. Television was not being watched by her. Was television being watched by her?

She has watched television. She has not watched television. Has she watched television? Television has been watched by her. Television has not been watched by her. Has television been watched by her? She had watched television. She had not watched television. Had she watched television Television had been watched by her. Television had not been watched by her. Had television been watched by her? She will have watched television. She will not have watched television.
Will she have watched television. Television will have been watched television. Television will not have been watched by her. Will ~~television~~ <sup>have</sup> been watched by her. She has been watching television for two hours. She has not been watching television.

Has she been watching television? She had been watching television for two hours. She had not been watching television for two hours. Had she been watching television for two hours?
She will have been watching television for two hours. She will not have been watching television for two hours. Will ~~she~~ <sup>have</sup> been watching television for two hours?