Social interaction need sound base

We are living with examples of people. We try to secure our relations by our personal expertise but infact we are weakening our nurture. According to rule you can't get the fruits without roots

Your own victory is real. If you don't know about yourself than you can not like anyone. Its just fake. Independence is real achievement we can't win the human relation.

we can make ourself
better by our own work
Your own skills can
