

SANA Ahmad

IMSID 29470

Q The ascending potency of hybrid warfare being foisted on the state of Pakistan

Ans Hybrid war

Hybrid war is a situation in which a country resorts to overt use of armed in which a country another country

2 Examples

one of the most often example of hybrid war is the 2006 conflict between Israel and Hezbollah.

Hezbollah is sophisticated non-state actor that is sponsored by Iran.

(1) Pakistan being targeted by

(2) warfare. Pakistan is being targeted by fifth-generation warfare. The enemy states spread misinformation and disinformation regarding economic and security aspects of different regions of Pakistan. The main focus of such campaigns is ethnic communities religious sects and minorities residing in Pakistan

Causes of hybrid warfare in Pakistan

The causes of hybrid warfare Pakistan are complex and multifacted and can be traced back to number of different factors

1. Political instability:-

Political instability Pakistan has contributed to the rise of hybrid warfare in the country

(2) Geopolitical factors: Pakistan location in volatile region, with hostile neighboring countries, has made it susceptible to hybrid warfare. The conflict in Afg and India's role in the region... has also contributed to rise of hybrid warfare in Pakistan.

Strategies to overcome its implications

1 Addressing the root cause of conflict:

The root cause of the conflict and security issues in Pakistan such as poverty etc need to be addressed to ensure long-term stability security,

2 Strengthening institutions:

The institutions in Pakistan such as the government, military and police need to be strengthened to effectively respond to challenges posed by hybrid warfare.

