

2009

According to early philosophers art intensify the emotions and notions for moral values. But this theory is defective. Style and form of art are beautiful and philosopher ignores it. Aesthetic experience gives direction to our passions and passions are not out of control. Poet emotions are not always directed by the past. May be developed in present time in immediate state. Poet emotions and passions never scar the emotions of people. Mostly dramatic skills attract the people. No body adopts the artistic character of dramas and plays.

Beauty of artistic work

In Under developed countries social, cultural and economic aspects are in worst form because of colonialism. So, growth of these countries is arrested. Cultural, social and political aspects are interlinked with ideological aspect. Modification in one aspect, automatically other aspect will be change. Before occupation, some tribes and societies were fully established but some were not. Development stopped after colonialism. They favoured only small area. After Dependency Progress of these countries were frozen and divided into classes. Both feudal and tribal groups are living with discrimination. Having Gender, cast, racial and religious discrimination with each other. That's why these countries have a such a cultural.