Increasing population

The growing population is leading to a reduction in available resources in Pakistan. High population puts the nation on risk to fulfill the basic necessities of the people. Similarly, Pakistan is one of them, who suffers from the high population explosion. Increasing population creates difficulties for the state to facilitate its people at every stage. Consequently, the countries move towards scarcity as same in case of Pakistan. Whereas, the increasing population causes limited resources in the country. According to Pakistan's population consensus, Pakistan is ranking at top seven countries having large population with an estimate of 240,485,658. The increasing population shows that, Pakistan's population increases it decreases the resources availability for the people of Pakistan. (Pakistan's population, report, 2023). In short, the increasing population leads to depletion of resources in Pakistan.
