

Topic: Is Pakistan Ready for Digital RevolutionOUTLINE

1) Introduction: Thesis Statement

2) Crunch Paragraph

3) How Pakistan is Ready to Embrace Digital Revolution (Thesis)

a) Digital Revolution would result in employment creation that Pakistan is in need of more than ever.

b) Pakistani talent would be able to compete in global market.

c) There would be more learning opportunities for students.

d) Digital Revolution would pave the way for new IT businesses to help bolster Pakistan's ailing economy.

e) Automation of boring and time-consuming tasks can increase productivity of both private and government employees.

4) Pakistan's Embrace of Digital Revolution May Give Rise to Many Serious Issues (Antithesis)

a) Threat to traditional jobs of people unfamiliar with technology.

b) More Pakistani talent might leave the country to serve the global market.

c) Digital Revolution might make Pakistani students dependent on technology.

- / /
- d) Security threat is always greater for IT businesses.
 - e) Machines would replace humans ~~and~~ creating an employment gap in Pakistan.

5) Embracing Digital Revolution is far Better than losing the Opportunity for Good. (Synthesis)

- a) People can learn to be tech-savvy which is a need of the time.
- b) Creation of domestic opportunities would help keep the talent in the country.
- c) Dependence can be a small price for the greater good in form of fruitful opportunities for every individual.
- d) Caution is not limited to IT but to every field.
- e) At the end of the day, Machines are also controlled by human intelligence and creativity.

b) Conclusion .