

Title: Unfair Victimization of Manto.

A hypocrite society labelled Manto as a morally corrupt writer only because he explained the realities of intimacy for a common man. He continued his work despite being dragged into legal and ethical issues. Manto understood human nature. Hence, he was able to connect with his audience. He hated the double standards of people and through his writings, he exposed their hidden thoughts and desires. And like all great authors, he depicted the obscene truths of life in a literary way that strongly resonated with his readers.
