

Syed Yasir Ali Masui #341

"CSS 2022"

Title: "Ancient Greek Oracles"

Mankind's fear and weakness in life urged them to communicate to the divine superpowers who regulate the universe; for which soothsayers gave oracles interpreting word of God by observing natural phenomena, animals and dreams. Tiresias, Calchas, Helenus, Amphiaraus and Cassandra were notable soothsayers of ancient Greece. However, sometimes God communicated directly through a prophet or a prophetess to the supplicants by a "divine mania". Oracles operated on these practices within a properly organized sanctuary associated with one or more gods: Delphi intervened by Apollo conveying messages of Zeus to mortals and Dodona the oldest oracle assisted by Zeus.

(100 words)

CS Precis 1991

"Need for effective trains in Europe"

Necessarily European trains stop at borders to change locomotives due to operational and structural differences and staff due to ultrapatriotism. To decrease pollution and unburden road and airways, Belgian government strives for effective railways; France, Germany and Italy are developing high speed trains.

(43 words)

Muhammad Yousuf Bhatti Batch 44
Syed Yasir Ali Masui

225

Precis 2010: CSS "Cure for Envy"

Envy is one of the characteristics of human that brings unhappiness to himself. He envies what others have, forgetting his own blessings. An envious person will deprive others of their advantages causing an end to extra ordinary skills. An envious person will question merit. However, to increase happiness, admiration needs to be increased ultimately diminishing envy. The cure for envy, for a clergyman is selflessness and for a layman is happiness. Even though envy is itself a hurdle to happiness. An envious man questions the cure of envy as he cannot find happiness while he continues to feel envy and he cannot cease to become envious until he finds happiness where as in real life p envy is to find ~~that~~ its cause.

cure for envy

(121 words)

~~was~~ ~~at~~ ~~top~~ Syed Yasir Ali #341 LMS 29525

Title :- "God loves those who love their fellow men"

One night, Abu Ben Adem woke, and saw an angel writing the names of those who love God. Abu found his name was not included and asked the angel to include among those who love their fellow men. The angel wrote and vanished, but next night returned with the names of those who God loves and Abu's name was at top.

(60 words)