

Role of Mother in Making Personalities (Emotional nurturing and support)

The emotional nurturing and support of mother plays a profound role in making of child's personality. Nonetheless, there is an incompressible bonding between mother and child, thus, each act of mother significantly impacts child's emotional growth. Hence, a mother create a secure and safe environment for child's emotional nourishment. Such as, when a child return home after a tiring school day, the mother's comforting helps in developing sense of security and valued. Resultantly, a child builds self-worth and confidence. In essence, mother's comforting positively affects the emotional nurturing of a child (91 words)