A person who puts in the extra effort, gains the most progress. Such a person is not granted progress by officers or the system, but is endowed by the nature. We should have faith that Allah Almighty will persevere our efforts. We should believe that nature will favour us. Those efforts that are not rewarded by men, will surely be rewarded by Allah. We should have faith in this as much as we have in the existence in our body. Hazrat Shiekh Saad stated "Never ask according to your circumstances, rather ask according to His status. It is possible that my circumstances may be limited, but the Endower can make me a King. He has countless means and reasons to bestow upon us."
