

Essay # 01

People have become Overly dependent on Technology

Outline

1. Introduction:

Thesis Statement:

People have overly dependent on technology in every aspect of life from household dependency to satellite and rockets in the space. It includes people dependency on technology in education sector, health sector, economic sector and industrial sector. People dependency on technology have both positive and negative impacts. But its positive impacts are more in number than negative impacts.

2. Comparison of Societies before and after technology.

3. Evolution of Technology in Society.

4. How People are Overly dependent on technology:

- a- Statistics and preparation of budget is based on technical tools and equipments.
- b- The governments financial calculations and banks accounts are dependent on cloud computing through internet.

c- The developmental projects is president and monitored through technical devices.

d- Freelancers are overly dependent on internet and computer for financial requirements.

e- Politicians are dependent on social media for its election campaign.

f- New innovations, research, and online classes need internet and advanced technology.

g- Health sector is dependent on technical equipments such as X-rays, MRI, and laser surgery.

h- People dependent on household equipments in the form of Refrigerator, and Microwave oven.

i- People dependent on mobile phones for online shopping and map for transportation.

j- Electric vehicles, aeroplanes, and satellites are the source of transportation and information for people.

5- Positive impacts of People dependency on technology:

a- Technical tool helps in research and innovation & gives updated and accurate results.

b- Electrical vehicle and aeroplane facilitate people and save their time.

c- Freelancing improved economic situation of a country.

6- Negative impacts of people dependency on technology:

a- Technological equipments produces harmful gases which affect the environment.

b- People addicted with technology, hence compromised on their physical health.

7- A Case study of Sri Lanka:

a- Dependent on aeroplanes for its tourism industry.

8- A case study of Environment:

a- Meteorologist dependent on technical devices to predict upcoming weather patterns.

9- Conclusion