

27/08/2023

Batch: 341

Name: Urooba

ACADEMIC PARAGRAPH STRUCTURE

(Sub-heading: Demand For New Province)

Topic Sentence	There has been always a recurring demand for new provinces.
Explanatory or Reasoning sentence	Historically, there is a persistent demand for new provinces in Pakistan on different grounds. After
Supporting Point (1)	At the time of partition Jhalpur, Bahawalpur and Saraiki province were demanded.
Example (1)	In 1990s, Karachi, Hyderabad and the in between area were demanded to be a new province named Jhalpur. This province was demanded by Urdu speakers after the name of Jhal.
SP 2 (optional)	→ After R amendment when the name of NWFP were changed into KP, Hazara division were ignored.
Ex 2 (to be written if SP2 is given)	which then resulted in the demand for new province of Hazara.
Concluding Sentence	So there is always a demand for new province. Since the day of partition, people are emphatically on new provinces to be formed.

(No. of words _____)