opposite to each other

From a common perspective, the law of a country and freedom of the individual are ~~interdependent~~. Nothing seems wrong in it. There are some sanctions, which every law imposes on its citizens. If there are too many laws in a country, then the rate of sanctions are also collectively increased. The individual's freedom will be compromised due to so many an increased number of sanctions. On the other hand, if the number of laws are not that much high, citizens will enjoy their freedom.

2019 (Translation)

Pakistan is determined for peace in Afghanistan, because it is very crucial for Pakistan to have peace in Afghanistan. In historical context Pakistan and Afghanistan being Islamic brothers, shares their history, culture and linguistics. These bonds are unbreakable. Both are interdependent and also cannot survive alone. From the very beginning Pakistan's stance is to solve Afghan issue through politics. China also supports us in this stance. According to China, Afghan conflicts can be solved through peace negotiations in Afghan peace leadership. For strategic purpose, both Pakistan and China will play its role in order to solve Afghan conflict through negotiations.
