

~~Resurg~~ Resurgence of TTP

Recent attack in Bajour has <sup>raised</sup> created many questions. Is it <sup>rebirth</sup> reborn of TTP? Will Pakistan face challenge again? Is Pakistan next target? After the establishment of Taliban government in Afghanistan, TTP has become <sup>more</sup> powerful. <sup>F</sup> Firstly, they were <sup>undercover</sup> ~~the~~ undercovered and their activities reduced in Pakistan. <sup>A</sup> After regaining support, they have <sup>become active</sup> activated and started attacking on different areas of Pakistan. Recent attack <sup>on</sup> on Peshawar police caused death of almost 80 people and once again attack in Bajour almost 42 civilian lost their lives and more than 100 got injured. Is it start of TTP to attack on civilian? Within 3 months, general election's are to be held <sup>which</sup> means political parties will conduct their campaigns. <sup>They</sup> It will be easy target for TTP to attack on civilian and political parties. ~~Firstly~~ Pakistan is facing economic and <sup>arisen</sup> arisen political crisis. <sup>N</sup> Now security issue has arisen. If Pakistani militants do not take serious steps against TTP it can give high damages to country.
