

2009

According to early philosophers art intensifies the emotions and noxious for moral values. But this theory is defective. Style and form of art are beautiful and philosopher ignores it. Aesthetic experience gives direction to our passions and passions are not out of control. Poet's emotions are not always directed by the past, ~~may~~ be developed in present time in immediate state. Poet emotions and passions never scar the emotions of people. Mostly ~~dramatic~~ skills attract the people. No body adopts the artistic character of dramas and plays.

no sense of this sentence word count is ,missing precise is incoherent and needs improvement

Beauty of artistic work over all not satisfactory be clear and to the point there is no title no word count precise lacks coherence and theme of the main passage is missing over all not satisfactory 0/20

In Under developed countries social, cultural and economic aspects are in worst form because of colonialism.

rewrite this sentence

So, growth of these countries is arrested. Cultural, social and political aspects are interlinked with ideological aspect. Modification in one aspect, automatically other aspect will be change.

changes the other aspect

Before occupation, some tribes and societies were fully established but some were not. Development they who? and which areas stopped after colonialism. They favoured only small area. After dependency Progress of these countries were frozen and divided into classes. Both feudal and tribal groups are living with this is the theme of the main passage discrimination. Having gender, cast, racial and religious discrimination with each other. That's why these countries have a such a cultural.