

Topic => Unemployment in Pakistan

Cause: Lack of adequate education

Topic Sentence:

Unemployment in Pakistan has increased due to lack of adequate education in youth.

Explanatory Sentence:

Outdated higher education curriculum is one of the leading factors, contributing in lack of adequate education, resulting in unemployment.

Supporting Sentence:

Because of outdated higher education curriculum, students are unable to equip themselves with modern-day knowledge, lagging behind in skills, failing to meet eligibility criteria, paving way for increased unemployment.

Evidence:

According to Fawad Yusufzai, due to low-skilled education, over 31% of the youth holding professional degrees is unemployed in Pakistan. (Nation.com.pk, Unemployment among graduates, Feb 2022)

Concluding Sentence:

In short, outdated higher education curriculum resulting in lack of adequate education, is a leading cause of unemployment in Pakistan.

Effect: Increased unemployment has dismantled the social fabric of Pakistani society.

Topic Sentence: Not only lack of adequate education is a cause of unemployment but it has also dismantled the social fabric of Pakistani society.

Explanatory Sentence:

Due to increase in unemployment, crime rate has also increased in Pakistan.

Supporting Point:

With the increased unemployment, low-income households are struggling to make ends meet. This frustration often drives many people to engage in heinous crimes such as robbery, dacoity, looting, and others, which can rupture the social fabric of Pakistani society.

Evidence:

According to World Bank, Pakistan unemployment rate in Pakistan, in 2020 was 6.28% and the crime rate was 3.74%. whereas in 2021, the unemployment rate was 6.48% and the crime rate also increased to 3.98%.

This shows that crime rate and unemployment has close relation to each other. (Macro trends,

Concluding Sentence: Unemployment and crime, April 2022

To conclude, with the increase in unemployment, crime rate has also increased which has disrupted the social fabric of Pakistani society.

Solution: Providing quality education to reduce unemployment in Pakistan.

Topic Sentence:

To counter the effects of unemployment in Pakistan, it is necessary to provide quality education to youth.

Explanatory Sentence:

By providing modern day training to teachers, it will ensure the delivery of quality education, hence reduced unemployment in Pakistan.

Supporting Sentence:

Providing teachers with modern day training will enable them to learn new teaching methodologies which in return will help youth to learn and develop critical and problem solving skills.

Evidence: According to Annah Umair-in Pakistan, the NGOs like "The Citizen Foundation" and "The Zindagi Trust" and self build initiatives like "Street-to-School" are trying to provide high quality education to youth by providing modern day training to teachers.

Reference in the same line.

(Nation.com.pk, Education in Pak,

April 2023)

Concluding Sentence:

Overall, it may be said that teacher training will ensure quality education ^{among youth} which will ultimately help in reducing unemployment.

