Q:- Punctuate the following text, where necessary

Unfortunately, we often miss a big school lesson: Every big task consists of several small ones; done precisely and perfectly. As a nation, we actually need to learn the art of breaking down our moonlit goals into small accomplishable tasks. It will reduce frustration, anxiety, depression in society, and embarrassment for the government machinery, too, as they don't have to defend their unkept promises.

That familiarity produces neglect, has been long observed. The effect of all external objects, however, great or splendid, ceases with their novelty. The courtier stands without emotion in the royal presence; the music tramples under his foot; the beauties of the spring, with little attention to their colours or their fragrance; and the inhabitant of the coast, darts his eye upon the immense diffusion of waters, without awe, wonder, or terror.
