Patriarchal society and female doctors:

Patriarchal society has severely damaged? the female doctors to such an extent. Responsible government and concerned such institutions have failed to educate and be aware of men, having conservative mind, about the importance of girls' education.

talented In the society, hard working and talented females get the degree of MBBS, but they are deprived of doing house-jobs. According to Dr. muazzam, the researcher, 70 percent females get professional degrees of MBBS every year; nevertheless, only half of ~~70 percent~~ those females join housejob and others either get married or stay at home. There are many cases mentioned on the daily basis that female doctors quit their jobs. The core reason is that they do not only take care of their spouses, but also they also look after their children.

Hence, female doctors are not allowed by the patriarchal society to move on their carrier career
