	26 107123:6,t
Question	Max Weber and Talcott Parsons have Theorized social action from Their variable perspectives. Highlight the contributions of both Thinkers and also locate divergence in Their standpoints.
Am	Outline
1-	Introduction no need to write the outline in the question answers
2-	Max weber's perspective on social action
3-	Max Weber's key contributions to The study of social action
4-	Talcott Parson's penpertine on social action 5-	Talcott Parson's key contributions to The study of social action
6-	Divergence in Their standpoints
7-	Eonelusion.
	Introduction
	Max Weber and Talcott Pasons are two prominent sociologists who have made significant conhibutions to the under-
- 11	standing of social action and its . !!	implications. While They share some commonalities n Their perspectives, There are notable livergence in Their Handpoints as well.
	The cipolitus as a section

	Max Weber's Perspective on Social Action
~	Max Weber (1864-1920) was a German 3	ociologist and one of the founding igures of Sociology, he developed the encept of "Verstehen" or "interpretive indentanding" to study social action. coording to weber, social action is y behaviour that is influenced by The eaning people attach to it and by e outin of others, He believed inat is enential to understand The subjective me	aning and intentions behind individuals rions to comprehend The social world. conomy and Society: An outline of Ir	terpretive sociology" is a published W	ork by Max weber. The central Teme al.	The book revolves about The concept 2	social action and its role in shaping
-	Source To Joseph Control Ma de	Merent aspects of human societies. He arg	wes that social actions are not simply me	chanical respones to enternal stimuli T	are driven by belief, values and cultural 2000년 1일 : 1000년 1일 1일 14 14 14 14 14 15 15 16 16 16 16 16 16 16 16 16 16 16 16 16 Weber's Key Contributions to The Study of Social Action

Ideal Types: weber used ideal types as conceptual tools to analyze and Weber could study complex social realities and identify patterns and to	rends Types of Social Action: One of The ke	ey concept explored in "Economy and socialy, An outline of Interpretive soci	islay. in weber Thepology of Social Action weber classified social action into fo	ou types.
2 de lational Action: Acti	ons Instrumental -	cr
outcomes.	CO 1- 1-
Value-Rational Action: Actions on	ven b a comitment to ethical, moral or alique values.
reugious veners Weber's Key Contributions to The Study of Social Action Ideal Types: Weber used ideal types as conceptual tools to analyze and compare various social phenomenon: These are the abstrail models that represent the enential characteristics of certain rocial actions, institutions or concepts. By using Edeal types, weber could study complex could realities and Edentify patterns and the concept explored in "Economy and Society: An action of Interpretive Social Action into the Weber's Typelogy of Social Action into the Instrumental-Patienal Action: Action date place to achieve specific goals outcomes. Value - Rational Action: Actions drively actions a consistency value.

	(iii)	Affectial Action. Actions driven by emotions, feetings, or passion.	CEAL CONTRACTOR 	Civ	Traditional Action: Actions guided by customs, habith or long established practices,
	C.	The Protestant Eline and The Spirit of capitalism. In his famous work, weber explored the connection between Prokestant religious belief, particularly calvinism, and rise of capitalism in Weslern societies. He argued that religious ideas and values played a significant role in shaping economic behaviour and modern capitalism.
		Talcott Parson's Perspective on Social Action
		Talcott Panani (1902-1979) was an	A A American sociologist and a major proponent of structural fractionalism, 11	a dominant Tleon in mid 20th century.
	11	sociology. While Weber focused on The indestanding The subjective meanings of ocial actions, Panons emphasized The importance of social structure and Syphem equilibrium in emplaining social phenumena.

==
	Parson's Key Contributions to the Study of Social Action Systems Theory: The concept of The Panon's book "The social Action" revolves ab around system Theory. Pasans developed a system approach to analyze societies as complex system with interrelated parts. He viewed societies is self-regulating igstens that seek stability and equilibrium. Social actions anording to Passons, are shaped by The system's requirements for functional 5 integration and adaptation.
	Pattern Variables: Pansons introduced the concept of "pattern variables" To indenstand The choices Individuals made in Their social actions. Rese variables represent pains of contrasting values, such as univeralism no particularism. Individuals navigate these variables when making. decisions influenced by societal norm & valu

C.	AGIL Paradigm: Parsons identified	T ; four functional imperatives necessary	12 for the survival and stability of any social aptem. Adaptation (A) 7. Goal Attainment (G), Integration (I); and Laterry (1) These imperatives correspond to distinct social instituitions and quide social actions in fulfilling specific functions.
	Divergence in Standpoints:
- N	The main divergence between weber and Parsons lies in Their Theoretical orientations
. 11	Neben approach is more interpretive and founded on indiretanding The meanings
- 11	and intentions behind individual actions, 11	shereas Posson's approach is more structural inchional, emphasizing the role of 110	aial up tems and instituitions in quiding 11/
11	igal actions.
- 11	eber's emphasis an "verskehen allowed to	r a deeper indenstanding of The subjective
. as	perts of social action, while Pasaris us on system leavy provided a broader perspective on how actions fit into The overall structure and stability of societies.

	Conclusion
	In conclusion, both Max weber and Talcott Banans made significant contributions to the study of social action from different perspectives. Webers interpretive approach highlighted the cubicipue meaning of action, while Posens chuchual - prictional of proces 1 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 in miding ations . Then were influential in sociological Reony and continue to be relevant for indenstanding social behaviour and instituitions. social benombu and satisfactory ans is well composed over all it is acceptable enhance the length of ans to 8 sides 8/20
THE RESERVE OF THE PARTY OF THE	THE REPORT OF THE PROPERTY OF