

Maasha! Democracy is the worst form of good Governance for illiterate Nations work!

① Introduction

crunch para!

② Democracy is not the worst form of governance for illiterate Nations (Thesis).

②.1 Democracy is not about rationality but representation. ✓

②.2 Mostly people choose their representatives on emotional basis whether ✓ they are illiterate or not. ✓

②.3 Unlike dictatorship democracy does not let people be oppressed — 50? ✓

②.4 Under democracy anyone can raise their voices even in illiterate nations ✓

②.5 In case of bad governance, illiterate nations can change their government by democratic process. ✓

②.6 A case study of India where illiteracy is high yet biggest democracy ✓

②.7 Democracy gives opportunities to increase literacy rate. ✓

②.8 Unlike any other form of governance democracy let people participate in policy making irrespective of their literacy rate. ✓
status

Write arguments not examples

use easy keywords in thesis & and main headings

③ Democracy has some drawbacks for illiterate Nations (Anti Thesis)

③.1 Illiterate nations are easy to manipulate while choosing a candidate

③.2 Backdrop ? in policy making due to lack of knowledge

③.3 Irrational people can-not identify corruption of their governments.

③.4 Illiterate nations do not raise their voices for basic rights.

④ Despite the drawbacks, democracy is still the best form of governance for illiterate Nations. (Synthesis)

④.1 Attending public meetings and knowing about party's manifesto can reduce the manipulation.

④.2 Even illiterate nation can prioritise their basic rights during policy making.

④.2.1 A case study on Mughal Golden Era

④.3 Democracy gives power to institutions that can end corruption.

(4.4) Illiterate people can raise their voices for their due right.

(4.4.1) A case study on Labour rights movements ✓

5 Conclusion! ✓