~~Title~~: Significance of Empathic development in men

The modern man should be educated to hone their empathic values along with intelligence, in order to protect themselves. This responsibility now falls on educational institutions since the churches have failed to do so. Some men do not care about morality as their actions are driven by lust for power. This can result in serious consequences. Hence, it is essential that education providers should enhance empathic capacity in such a way that they love.
