Religious extremism

In Pakistan, religious extremism is a threat to security. The wrong interpretation of Shariah <sup>leads</sup> them in destructive direction to the society. In fact, extremist groups <sup>are</sup> have radical ideologies which ~~are~~ not mentioned in Islam.

What do you mean by 'them'?

Every religion gives a message to protect <sup>humanity</sup> humanity, but many of them <sup>turn</sup> turns out to be extremist in their perceptions. Recently, many incidents of terrorism have been perpetrated by militant groups in Pakistan. These groups have claimed the responsibility of the attacks. According to the Global Terrorism Index, Pakistan <sup>is</sup> <sup>ranked</sup> consistently among the top 5 countries targeted by terrorism with numerous <sup>casualties</sup> casualties and social disruption resulting from extremist activities. (www.visionhumanity.org, Global Index of Terrorism report, 2022). In short, religious extremism is the root cause of terrorism.

Mistakes identified. Cohesion needs improvement.
