PRÉCIS:-

"University Training Rather than Content Raises the Intellectuals"

To train good members in a society, a practical must be assigned at the end of a university course. Because it is the training that <sup>raises the</sup> ~~raises~~ intellectuals rather than the content. University, in general, neither confine its views to a particular profession, not produce any influencers, as those in the past. But, its training gives a man a clear conscious view of his own opinions and judgments and teaches him how to construct truth and expression through critical analysis. Due to which he can excel in any post or field of his choice. (Total words : 94)
