

Impacts of climate on National character and employment

Climate affects the labour and his regular habits. People living in moderate areas possess ~~ir~~ regular industrial work but in northern areas the efficiency of working class and out of door employment is severely interrupted by harsh weather. Moreover the national character of people in northern areas are more unpredictable and irregular as compared to natives of southern region. The countries like Sweden and Norway working class is interrupted by dryness of weather whereas in Spain and Portugal the severity of winter and shortness of days effected the same. But, the common characteristic in all these four nation is that the agricultural activities is not feasible. Hence, their character is unstable and volatile.

Word Count:-

Passage: 300

Precis : 107