

There are many issues in the education system of Pakistan but the most prominent is the higher ratio of out-of-school children. Most of the poor parents in Pakistan do not send their children to schools because of the economic and other problems. Although article 25 (A) guarantees the primary education to every child of age 5 years to 16 years. There are many children of this age who are deprived of education. According to UNICEF 22.5 million children in Pakistan of age 5 years to 16 years are out-of-school. These are the 44% of this group. So, it is concluded that primary education enrollment is one of the basic problems.
