

A step towards rectification:

The Supreme Court of Pakistan has decided to look back into the highly controversial verdict upon the request of former President Asif Ali Zardari. The verdict which is decades old but is imperative in its significance. Yes, it's the verdict that caused the hanging of former Prime Minister and President Zulfikar Ali Bhutto, under the watch of Zia-ul-Haq. The apex court's decision is a step towards establishing its authority in the eyes of its people. But, this task is very daunting and as delicate in its nature.
