Title: Effects of Weather.

Temperate countries of northern Europe have positive effects of cold. It obstructs our energy and trigger us to fight in difficult situation. Intense cold numbs human energies, hot climate gives boost for exertion and moderate cold is like human race. In moderate cold man needs houses, clothes, ~~fire~~ fuel, and food to keep himself warm.

In tropics, there is no need of warm clothes or fire and no danger to health. Need of food no more than sustain in life. People have different nature in different areas.
