

Preci 1983:

Rural Development: A meaningful Development Strategy

Rural development strategy aims to improve productivity through provision of social and physical infrastructure in rural areas. Excessive rural population, low income per capita, high magnitude of poverty and under-employment force people to migrate to the cities. Therefore, modern amenities should be provided in rural areas. Hence, its provision leads to increase in productivity and, overall nourishes the cultural heritage of the rural society.

(56)

Total words 264
required = 88.