

INTRODUCTION

Nelson Mandela quotes “The youth of today are the leaders of tomorrow”. The fate of a nation is undeniably decided by the present situation of its youth. Skilled, honest and goal-oriented youth means a just, corruption free, politically stable and economically prosperous future nation. However, if the skilled and beneficial youth decided to leave its county to settle abroad, what they leave behind is their illiterate and skill-less counterparts. Such is the case with Pakistan. Young brains of Pakistan are leaving for countries where they are appreciated, given higher salaries, job security, safety and many other benefits contrary to Pakistan. What they leave behind is increased illiteracy rate, increased security threat, loss of future entrepreneurs and skilled manpower. These impacts have adversely affected country's economy, security and growth.
