Title: freedom in education.

There are three main schools of thoughts of freedom in education among which third party like the relic of rousseauism says that liberty will ensure moral perception but the author did not agree with this individualistic approach which believes that education is only for development whereas a positive education is a prerequisite for a co-operative society. Some Pro-freedom educators are successful due to their exceptional judgement. Therefore the purpose of education should must be to provide mental and moral equipment along with development.
