

Title: Affection Makes Children Responsive

Modern educationists give unnecessary importance to the privacy of children. Affection, like someone has for pets, makes them responsive. However, ~~an~~ affection, with some future expectations, is useless. It will not make them responsive. Therefore, affection should be natural. Teachers have quality to make them more responsive, but their presence should not cause any psychological impact. Now a days, teachers are very busy, and they do not have much time for them; therefore, ~~the~~ education should not be whole profession of a person. Over freedom is creating fatigue in them, which leads to irritation. In preserving necessary friendship with them, affection is more effective than rules, and only smart rules can replace affection.