

Title:

Manto's art of Writing and Societal Boundries

Variegated societal treatment was faced by Manto. He had to face a number of legal prosecutions due to bold ideas which were spread by his writings. He remained determined in exposing human nature by confronting people's aggression. He was very obvious in expressing the mysterious facts of sexism and society. His depiction of humans was as real as possible. However, he was successful in describing important societal issues while creating harmony among his readers. Moreover, he had unbiased views about man's insanities. As an artist, like others, accurately handled the theme of vulgarity. He genuinely narrated people in their anxieties.
