Title: Importance of freedom of education

In the context of freedom of education, there are three major schools of thought. First, who say that children should be completely free whether they are bad. Second, who say that children should be accountable whether they are good and third, ~~who~~ who say that choose the middle way, children should be free. Despite freedom they should be good forever. 58

The last school of thought is more practical and moral perfection

They ~~do not~~ believe that should not be more than environment development
