

DAY: _____

(Precis 2018)

DATE: _____

Title: Different climates and their impacts

A cold climate, working as a hurdle, generates energy to perform functions of life. The disappointment prevails if this hurdle is beyond human capacity. ~~on the other hand,~~ ^{incorrect interpretation} ^{contrarily} absence of hurdles leads towards laziness. Struggles accompanied by hope give rise to an active and fruitful operation. So, moderate climate acting as a moderate hurdle, offers positive impacts on human race. In such climate, man is trained to perform tasks which are neither impossible nor very easy. ^{which types of tasks are these}

From building houses to managing clothes, fuels and food, he performs all the tough tasks. Man in tropics offers a total opposite picture to this life is much easier here. Similar is human nature at different

DAY: _____

DATE: _____

seasons, taking life easily in hot weather ~~but exerting more~~ energy in the cold season.
(126 words)

main idea is picked and discussed write total words too dont twist the sentences write clear to the point sentence
over all there is alot of room for improvement
6/20
average precis