

"The one who uses force is afraid of reasoning."

Outline:

1. Introduction:

One who resorts to violence and coercion do so because he is afraid of opposing ideas and reasoning. One uses force to suppress others. However, one should be courageous enough to negotiate with others and prove one's point of view.

2. Crunch paragraph

3. Use of force rather reasoning in Individual's life

- a) Lack of confidence
- b) Fear of losing one's position
- c) Insecurities of individual
- d) Lack of valid arguments
- e) Fear of failure in individual
- f) Narrow-minded personality traits

4. Use of force rather reasoning in society

- a) To suppress others
- b) To attain hegemony in society
- c) Try to cover up one's fears
- d) To gain monetary benefits
- e) To seek quick solutions
- f) Usage of religion as shield

Date: _____

5. Other reasons behind ~~use of force~~ ^{Phrase it properly}

- a) To prove one's self right and other wrong
- b) To hide one's real intention
- c) Experiences learned from life
- d) ~~Kindness~~ Incapable to negotiate
- e) Lack of flexibility

These arguments should be more self-explanatory

6- Conclusion

Keep writing