

Topic:- Female healthcare: a forgotten cause

OUTLINE

1 Introduction

Thesis Statement: Marred by conflicts and languishing in perils, females have been facing multiple healthcare issues since the day life was incepted on the planet. Owing to governance, economic, social and religious causes, female healthcare has become a forgotten cause. This requires a holistic and visionary approach to eradicate the healthcare problems.

2 Overview of Female Healthcare in Contemporary Era

3 Why Has Female Healthcare Become a Forgotten Cause?

- 3.1) Lack of cooperation by the government
- 3.2) Less economic independency of women creates hurdles in the way of their treatments
- 3.3) Conservative role of women for consulting a male doctor

3.4) Traditional ways of treatments

3.5) Lagging role of women in the digital world

3.6) Under-age marriage and considering female healthcare a taboo

3.7) Fake-degree holder doctors in the societies

3.8) Misinterpretation of religion regarding female healthcare

3.9) Social acceptance of unchecked alcohol consumption among females in the West

3.10) Lack of sex education - still a taboo in South Asian societies

3.11) Lack of educated health specialists

4 Detrimental and Unimaginable Ramifications of Female Healthcare Issues

4.1) Increased gender based violence in early-age marriages

4.2) Increased poverty due to lack of participation in economy

4.3) Weak-social structure owing to loss of female lives

5 Imaginable and Doable Strategies to Counter Female Healthcare Issues

- s.1) Countering conservative approach and incorporating more female doctors in the hospitals
- s.2) Awareness about the gravity of the issue
- s.3) Establishing day-care facility for female healthcare workers

6 Conclusion