Pakistan is determined for peace in Afghanistan as peace in Afghanistan is extremely important for Pakistan. In view of historical perspective, Pakistan and Afghanistan being Islamic neighborhood countries, are historically, culturally and linguistically related to each other. These relations are unbreakable. Both are dependent on each other and can not stay apart. Since the first day, Pakistan has stuck to the stance of resolving Afghanistan crises on political grounds. This foothold is also supported by China. According to China, the only possible solution of Afghanistan crises lies in peace negotiations under Afghan leadership. Pakistan and China would play their role to resolve Afghan conflict through negotiations, for strategic partnership.
