

Dream Party

"There is a larger consensus in the country that all major Political Parties failed the nation"<sup>29</sup>

By M. Amir Rana
(Security Analyst)

In Pakistan the government and Political Parties change rapidly ~~But~~ but what is wrong in longing for a new political party? Pakistan needs a dream political

Date:

Day:

M	T	W	T	F	S
---	---	---	---	---	---

party to steer the country out of its current crisis. Political party should have the vision and ability to introduce reforms and the courage to challenge the forces of current situation. Nowadays Political Parties is similar to day-dreaming to look for ways of escape in a situation of extreme crisis. There is a larger consensus in the country that major Political Parties have failed the nation. Their politics revolves around winning the patronage of the establishment and in the process, they have become politically and morally bankrupt. The Political leaders and parties engaged in a free-for-all struggle for power.

The leaders of new Campaign titled "Reimagining Pakistan", the campaign was recently launched by a group of 'PML-N' and 'PPP' political dissidents. The group itself has the potential to establish a dream party but its members have denied reports that they have any such intention instead their focus appears to be set on developing a consensus on the future course of action that could provide state strategic guidance to get Pakistan out of the current crisis.

Date: _____

Day:  M  T  W  T  F  S

Pakistan needs radical reforms to get out of the mushrooming economic and political crisis. In the Pakistan all ~~par~~ Political Parties should together and work on the biggest challenges from which Pakistan suffering, it keeps readjusting itself to change of "little consequence" and able to maintain the status.