Title:-

Pedagogy teaches, how to respect the child.

Mentors should respect children. Japanese never hit their child. They've very polite, kind and compassionate behaviour with their children.

They are not furious in habitat. They live with allegiance and dedications. The Japanese soldiers do not hesitate to sacrifice their lives for their motherland. Concisely, the environment which makes the mentors uncompassionate, based on human nature, confined the abilities of children and young ones that Pakistan doesn't want.
