

~~The~~ Education and morality

Prewise

There are different thoughts about the freedom in education for children. One of these thoughts is that children should be in complete freedom and in this freedom, they must be virtuous. This statement has not logical meaning. ~~The~~ author disagrees with those who think that education should be only for development and do not focus on character building. Co-operation can not be possible without being virtuous in a society. Although the development in technology has become possible due to education, virtuous and benevolence characters can be achieved through education. It must provide morality.
