Title: Climatic Conditions: Winter and Summer Season

In Northern Europe, winter season brings difficulties for there people. It creates numerous challenges to human development but there people have power to counter its for betterment of their living standred. Furthermore, people donot face problems in hot weather but they need to security in cold weather. Therefore, they have strong houses and essential aminities such as foods and warm clothes to protect themselves in winter season. On the contrary, people ^{require} a little effort to spend their life without any difficulty in summer season. However, we should recognize the difference between winter and summer season. we feel ourselves relax and comfort ourselves in summer winter and but we do not relax mentally and physically in winter season.
