

People have become overly dependent on technology.

OUTLINE

1- Introduction

Thesis Statement: Man's overdependence on technology has been subjected to <sup>a</sup>debate. ~~refine thesis~~ Despite evidence to the contrary, numerous propositions corroborate the notion.

2- Evolution of Technology over the Decades

3- Assertions Signifying ~~Man's~~ Over-reliance on Technology (Thesis)

a- ~~Technological framework~~ exists in the ~~tax~~ collection regime b- Adoption of electronic voting machines (EVMs) → technology aids political process c- Detection and prevention of terrorist activities with the help of technology d- Technology in education: from attendance monitors to online classrooms e- Application of technology in medical diagnostics f- Social media as the prime mode of socialisation g- E-Quran: Undermining the importance of traditional madrassah system h- Technology as the driver of industrial productivity

4- Man not overly reliant on technology (Antithesis)

a- ~~Inadequate~~ <sup>sufficient</sup> internet connectivity in backward areas b- Absence of online education in rural set-ups c- Official documentation and record maintenance<sup>is</sup> carried out manually d- Clinical history as the basis of diagnosis in primary healthcare settings

5- Growing dependence on technology is nothing short of overdependence a- Special communication channels being set up in backward areas b- Reduced attention to educational needs to account for the lack of online education in rural areas c- Transition to digital framework being witnessed in public offices d- Medical treatment<sup>is</sup> initiated only after appropriate radiological evidence

6- Conclusion