

Take any three expository essay topics and write their thesis statements.

(1) Topic: The far-reaching ^{GOOD} effects of political instability in Pak

Thesis Statement: Political instability has become a threat in Pakistan and has far-reaching effects at both national and international levels. These effects are due to the close relation of politics with other socio-economic indicators that decide a country's future. However, by applying stern actions and decisions, Pakistan can be saved from this unfortunate situation.

(Words: 50)

(2) Topic: Fault lines of division in Pak-causes and consequences

Thesis Statement: There are certain fault-lines that divide Pakistan and their causes and effects are needed to be addressed. This division is primarily responsible for the downfall of society. However, by analyzing them properly, a way-forward can be devised to overcome this challenge.

(Words: 40)

(3) Topic: Water crisis shaping the future of humanity

Thesis Statement: Humanity finds its future somehow relying on humans' stance on the issue of water crises and will be shaped accordingly.

The crisis has led to a dilemma and it is evident that its social implications can not be overlooked. However, by formulating policy decisions and applying stern actions, this future can be made promising.

(Words: 52)