

Gender Studies : INTEGRATION VERSUS AUTONOMY

Outline

1. Introduction

In gender studies there is a debate of integration in which they demand integration or incorporation of Gender studies with other subjects whereas in Autonomy there is a debate of "separate study" of Women or gender.

2. INTEGRATION Versus AUTONOMY:

- a) Integration
- b) Autonomy
- c) difference between integration and autonomy.

3. Features of Integration:

- a) Incorporated with other field.
- b) Integrationist point of view.
- c) Every one from every field know about the women problem

4. Benefits of Integration:

- a) Every field have the knowledge of basic women problems.
- b) They all collaborate and work for it.
- c) Every one play his role to solve the women or gender related problems.

5) Features of Autonomy:

- a) Seperate Study of genders.
- b) Anti Integrationalist
- c) Women specific discipline

6) Benefits of Autonomy:

- a) Seperate Study or department of gender studies.
 - (i) LGBT
 - (ii) Sexism etc.
- b) More research on it.
- c) Bringing change in the society.
- d) Struggle for education, political participation of women.

7) Conclusion:

Integration verses autonomy is two different concept and women or femerists struggle for the seperate decipline of education about women or gender studies because it brings more awerness about the basic problems of the gender.

Introduction:

In gender study there is a debate of integration versus autonomy where in integration there is a incorporation of gender studies with other subject like anthropology, sociology, psychology etc. whereas in autonomy there is a separate study of Gender as a independent subject. In integrationist point of view every one know about gender based problem no matter from which field one belong so it's a benefit every one work for it. But feminist or ~~autonomist~~ separationist say they want separate study about Gender so that there should be more researcher who work on it as a result they work on the specific problems of gender whether they're all problems related LGBT or women etc.